

Abstract of the Disclosure

A METHOD AND APPARATUS CONFIGURED TO MANAGE A PROCUREMENT PROCESS

The present invention includes a method and apparatus configured to manage at least one aspect of a procurement process. The method includes the steps of establishing a value threshold, establishing a transaction, the transaction having an associated transaction value; comparing the transaction value of the transaction with the value threshold, and managing at least one aspect of the procurement process in response to the comparison.

10020147.121401